William Schuster was received with great favor in his recent appearances with the Aborn Grand Opera company New Orleans. The Picayune. in New Cricans. The Picavure, in its review of the presentation of "The Tales of Hoffman," said: "William Schuster deserves to rank with the very first basses in the country. His voice possenses a rare sweetness for one cust so deep, and Mr. Schuster understands the art of singing, in that he pronounces every word and makes it easy for the audience to follow him. He made one of the deep impressions of the evening." of the deep impressions of the evening. The Democrat, it its account of the pre-sentation of "Madam Butterfly." said "William Schuster, the basso, duplicated the satisfactory work of the evening previous, and one could but wish that the score had given him more ample opportunity to display his powers."

BRATTLEBORO PAGEANT PROBABLE

Meeting in Brooks House Last Night Ad dressed by Miss Margaret M. Eager and Committee Appointed.

Miss Margaret MacLaren Eager of Old of this town last evening in the parlor of Mrs. Henry Pellerin, who was taken to the Memorial hospital Feb. 25, underwent an operation last Thursday and another Saturday. She is resting comfortably and is slowly regaining her strength.

Major C. Henry Pellerin, who was taken to the Memorial hospital Feb. 25, underwent to be held in this country and gave a brief outline of the scenario of one for this town. The meeting the Brooks House and as a result it is probable that a historical pageant will be outline of the scenario of one for this town. The meeting was informal and after the various scenes were described by Miss Eager, Dr. H. D. Holton was chosen chairman of the meeting and a committee consisting of Mrs. L. F. Adams, J. Gray Estey, Mrs. Wilfred F. Root, Mrs. G. B. White and Dr. F. H. O'Connor was elected, with Dr. Holton a member ex-officio. The committee will meet and discuss plans for the pageant and will call a public meeting to be held some evening at an early date In outlining the scenario Miss Eager said that Brattleboro was rich in historical incidents and that a very interesting pro-duction might be founded upon the days of old. Among the scenes which would be presented would be the Indians coming here in the spring to hunt and fish, the passage of the Deerfield captives in custody of French soldlers and Indians, the attack on Fort Dummer and the drawing of lots for land in Brattleboro in the Green Dragon Inn at Boston. The scene hast mentioned would be especially at-tractive as the old Boston street and the tayern would be presented and the dress and customs of the life in that city in those days could be shown. William Brattle, for whom the town was named. could be impersonated. The first settlers would be shown coming on horseback, also the arrival of later settlers in boats the arrival of the first minister and the open air religious meeting, Ethan Allen and his Green Mountain Boys coming to town and laying down the law to the Tory residents, his impromptu marriage to his second wife, who lived in this locality, the first postage stamp, the water-cure days, the Civil war camp and a variety of other interesting events in crattleboro's history.

Probably about 500 persons would take part in the pageant, and at the meeting last night sentiment seemed to favor us-ing the proceeds toward the purchase of a public playground, or some similar object. Last year the town of Bennington cleared $2000 from its pageant and no doubt a like sum could be obtained here. afternoon, Friday evening and Saturday

Those who attended the meeting wer in favor of holding the pageant and at the next meeting the matter will be discussed in every particular. Members of the board of trade and other organiza-tions who have been interviewed on the subject are unanimously in favor of the
